DEATH'S HARVEST.

More Residents Yesterday Added to the Long, Long Roll.

JOHN SCHLITZ.

"Can this be death? There's bloom upon his cheek; But now I see it is no living face. But a strange beetle-like the annular red Which autumn plants upon the parish'd leaf."

John Schlitz died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his sister after an illness covering two years.

For that length of time dread consumption has held him a sure victim, and though climatic changes have intervened, yet without avail.

Shortly following the holidays he got too weak to continue walking, and for the last fortnight his condition has been such as to prostrate him, with death an expectant caller at any time.

His end was as a child going to sleep; without a struggle, not even a sigh, he calmly folded his hands and wearily closing his eyes departed hence.

Just 22 years and 10 months old. How young to die! Cut down in the flower—yea, in the first bloom—of manhood, sad indeed is the contemplation.

John Schlitz had many virtues, and as his dust is borne to earth may these arise to overshadow any frailties which may have been his through environment or hereditary influences over which he had no control.

The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Baptist Church, with which he united last autumn, services by the Pastor, Rev. J. W. Porter, D.D.

The interment will be in Maysville Cemetery.

The deceased leaves two sisters and two brothers and a large company of friends to mourn his loss.

MRS. CORA LOWRY HAUCKE.

Sadness has been brought into many hearts by the death of Mrs. Cora Lowry Haucke, eldest child of Mrs. Theodore Lowry and wife of Mr. Lee Haucke, which came to her yesterday morning at 11 o'clock after a week's painful suffering.

Beautiful was her character, sacrificial her end, and with that Christian resignation which has marked her earthly course, she smiled as her Savior bore her spirit to His abode above; not without pangs at parting from those she so devotedly loved here, but with faithful assurance that some sweet day she would meet them there.

Peculiarly sad is her death, for she leaves behind a tender babe which needs a mother's love for nurture and admonition.

Born October 2, 1871, and married to Mr. Lee Haucke July 14, 1897, hers has been a brief and beautiful existence.

When a little child she was christened into the Episcopal Church, with which she has consistently and devoutly affiliated, and the solemn rite of signing the little babe with the cross over the dead mother's body will mark its advent into the Church she loved so well.

The heart of this community goes out to the grief-stricken mother, sisters, husband and aunts, for she whom they mourn was a noble Christian woman who by her virtues won hearts to love her, and in her death the void is one which only time can heal.

A Daughter of the King on earth, she now is translated to that realm above where the Church triumphant takes the place of the Church militant.

The funeral will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Augustine J. Smith officiating.

The burial will be in Maysville Cemetery.

Last night officer Harry Ort arrested Boone Webster and Andrew Wilson, colored, and lodged them in Jail.

They reside in the Sixth Ward, and the charge against them is burglary, which it is claimed was committed at Huntington, W. Va.

Horace Mineer of Mt. Carmel has been adjudged insane and sent to the Asylum at Lexington.

The Lewis County Oil, Gas and Mining Company, with $12,000 capital, filed articles of incorporation in the office of the Secretary of State Thursday. Sam J. Pugh, R. D. Wilson and A. J. Stein are the incorporators.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR!

$1,475.00 of exquisite lingerie has been bought for this occasion. The newest designs, the handsomest laces and embroideries, the daintiest braid-stitching, herring-bone and hemstitching. Muslins, cambrics, long cloths and mulls. Every woman who loves fine needle work and dainty under clothing will examine with interest the fifty hundreds on view next Tuesday. There is a luxurious abundance in the gathering which we have never attempted before. The designs are more delicate and feminine in their grace, the embroidery and lace finer, the very fabrics themselves seem sheerer. Imagination? Not at all. We've tried harder—gone further and oftener—bought more heavily than heretofore—and such efforts bring results to your liking. Don't come expecting ordinary goods—it requires little knowledge of fine needlework and cloth quality to appreciate the superiority of these garments.

There are Night Robes, Skirts, Chemises, Corset Covers, Drawers—each in a hundred pretty fancies waiting in spotless whiteness to show its individual perfection.

Monday some price notes but only sight can tell the beauty of this display.

In 1895 Thomas's establishment burned down and he received $65,000 insurance. In 1899 he again suffered a severe fire loss. The Insurance company refused to pay this last loss and also brought suit against Thomas to recover the $65,000 paid for the fire of 1895.

D. Hechinger & Co.

We were correct when we said

a while since that we did not intend having dull January and February business. To be sure there is no profit, in fact in many instances

there are losses on our sales; but we have always had a great weakness

to close out one season's stock before the next season comes in, hence

our stock is always fresh and new.

There still must be a good many people who have not availed themselves of securing "our kind" of Clothing!

At the Cut Prices we are now selling at.

Why not come in and buy an Ulster

or Overcoat at a price that will save

you at least one-third of the money

you will have to pay for it next winter? What an excellent opportunity

now to buy a Stein-Block or Adler suit, medium weight, one that you can wear nine months out of the twelve, and buy it for less money than you buy ordinary goods for.

We will be benefitted in turning

these goods into money, but you will be vastly more benefited in buying them. Were we addicted to fake advertising that so many clothing men resort

to, viz, the fellows who advertise $10 suits for $3.98, we would embellish more. The truth needs no embellishment.

You know we only advertise

and sell "straight goods."

THE HOME STORE.

D. HECHINGER & CO.

THE BEE HIVE

WE WANT TO SELL OUT QUICKLY!

The services of our Maysville partner are urgently needed in the East. In fact he ought to be there now. We have had many applicants who wanted to buy our business outright, but in all instances the stock has been too large. The stock must be reduced at once to meet the means of a "lump buyer." Hence we will indulge in still greater sacrificing and price cutting to make the goods move more quickly. COME NOW; DON'T LET THE OTHERS GET THE BEST OF THE BARGAINS.
